e-GOVERNANCE

IMPLEMENTATION OF E-GOVERNANCE AT INSTITUTIONAL LEVEL

E-Governance refers to the utilization of information and communication technologies (ICT) within organizations to enhance user services, improve operational efficiency, and uphold democratic values. It serves as a platform for the effective, transparent, and prompt delivery of services to all stakeholders. The fundamental purpose of e-governance is to instill transparency and efficiency in organizational operations, responding to the escalating expectations of the information age.

The impetus for transparency and efficiency arises from the ever-growing demands of the information age. E-Governance leverages the benefits of rapid and cost-effective communication, providing convenience, transparency, accountability, and broader access to information. These elements form the cornerstone of the e-governance concept, fostering an environment where organizational processes are streamlined and optimized to meet the evolving needs of a technologically advanced society.

KBN College, is actively embracing the latest applications of e-governance to modernize various digitally-performed functions through the internet. The essential infrastructure is funded both by the UGC and the college management. The majority of our staff and students leverage smartphones to harness the benefits of contemporary technologies in higher education.

To ensure seamless functioning of computer systems and address IT-related issues, an adept IT-Policy has been established within the college. The enthusiastic adoption of digital technology by the college community has significantly enhanced the prospects of e-governance across various operational areas. The pursuit of e-governance excellence focuses on the following key operational fields within educational administration.

ADMINISTRATION:

- Recognizing the potential benefits, the college is exploring opportunities to automate various administrative tasks.
- College Automation System -Webpros facilitates the maintenance of monthly reports teaching plans, lesson plans of the faculty, Time Table, Student Attendance, student internal assessment marks, student assignments and other study tools.
- Biometric system is maintained to monitor the faculty attendance.
- College staff members use smart phones to maintain the whatsapp groups for each class to intimate brief notices of any event to be conducted in the college, results release notifications, examination time table notifications.
- The campus is equipped with CC cameras installed at various places of need to monitor the safety and security. The student can post their grievance by logging through the college automation software webpros displayed on website.

WEBSITE:

The college website plays a pivotal role as a central communication and information hub for diverse stakeholders, fostering transparency, accessibility, and engagement. Serving as a comprehensive platform, it reflects the college's activities and provides essential information about the institution's Vision and Mission, policy documents for quality enhancement, offered courses, significant and upcoming events, notices, training and placement activities, as well as placement records.

It serves as a repository of faculty profiles, showcasing their expertise, research interests, and achievements. Staff directories facilitate easy contact with relevant personnel, enhancing communication among students and staff members.

In addition, the website features alumni data, presenting information on events, achievements, and networking opportunities. Functioning as a resource center, it provides access to online libraries, digital learning materials, and research publications. Event calendars and announcements keep the college community well-informed about upcoming activities, while online feedback forms and contact information facilitate seamless communication between students, faculty, and administration.

To ensure timely updates, a dedicated admin in-charge has been appointed for event uploads. The Principal, Heads of Departments, teaching staff, and committee coordinators are entrusted with the responsibility of regularly updating the website with pertinent information related to their respective
